ACCESS STATEMENT

Introduction

Founded in 2007, Wigtown Festival Company is an award-winning literary charity (limited by guarantee) which runs the annual Wigtown Book Festival. It also delivers an annual programme of literature development activities in the Dumfries & Galloway (D&G) region of south-west Scotland.

We develop new audiences, help writers fulfil their potential, support the region's literature sector and create opportunities for young people to enjoy and learn through writing and storytelling. Our organisation is based in Scotland's National Book Town, Wigtown, a remote rural community of just under 1,000 people

We aspire to make Dumfries and Galloway a better place to be a writer and a reader – a place where literature changes lives. The Company is based at 11 North Main Street, Wigtown, DG8 9HN.

Wigtown Festival Company firmly believes in enabling access for all and continues to work towards providing greater access facilities. This statement offers advice on access currently available.

Wigtown is rural and predominantly surrounded by countryside. The closest city is Glasgow which is 94 miles North. Wigtown is situated on a hill with a gradual approach – the situation of each venue varies and is described later in this statement.

Wigtown Festival Company has a policy to ensure that all venues are, as far as reasonably possible, are accessible to all. The specific facilities are detailed under each venue. There may be occasions when disabled access is not possible e.g. for a site specific event such as a nature walk, or literary event at an historic venue such as Cruggleton Church or Cardoness Castle. In these circumstances, visitors would be made aware of this.

Wigtown Book Festival takes place across several venues in and around Wigtown. Primarily these are:

There are two Blue Badge parking bays on South Main Street, where there is a lowered kerb to the pavement. The Lorry Park, accessed on South Main Street, beside The Old Bank Bookshop and opposite the County Buildings, is designated for Blue Badge holders during the festival and is a flat, tarmac surface.

Visitors can be dropped off outside the County Buildings, on South Main Street or North Main Street. From here, they can access all venues in the County Buildings, the young adult marquee and The Kist. The road here is closed to traffic and therefore there is no kerb. Drop off is not available outside the Festival Marquee and Festival Bookshop during busy periods on weekends due to a street market, however, support is available from the box office, where a wheelchair and/or volunteer are available to assist visitors to the Festival Marquee and Festival Bookshop.

All venues are accessible at ground level or via ramps, which do not have hand rails. All doors open outwards, though all venues are manned by volunteers who will ensure doors are opened. The exception to this is the County Buildings main door which opens outwards but is not always manned. All doorways offer clear space for manual wheelchairs and motorised wheelchairs to access.

Box Office

The box office where tickets are available in advance of the festival and during the event is on the ground floor of Wigtown Festival Company premises at 11 North Main Street. It is accessible through the shop where there are three shallow steps to enter, and through the side entrance (between two upright pillars) accessible via a ramp. This door is not always open, but a bell is situated by the door and a member of staff will open the door and provide assistance if required. The box office is situated through at the rear of the building on the ground floor.

Seating is available in the shop area. The floor is laminate in the shop and foyer, whilst the floor in the box office is a short pile carpet. The entire area is well lit with a combination of fluorescent tubes and spot lights.

The counter in the box office is staggered at two heights allowing easy access for wheelchair users to purchase tickets and make enquiries.

All venues offer clear signage regarding events, payment methods and directions to other venues. The box office does not have a loop system, but all visitors are dealt with on a one to one basis. The box office can also offer a pen and pad to assist those who cannot verbally express their enquiries and for a volunteer who cannot express their responses to visitors who are deaf or hard of hearing. A wheelchair and tri-wheel walker are both available for loan from the box office, on request.

Public Toilets

Public toilets are available within the County Buildings (see details in the programme) which are open during building hours. The Easy Access toilets described here all have clear space for a wheelchair and have grab rails to the left and the right of the WC. The horizontal rail to the right is a pull down rail to enable maximum space for access to the WC. Easy Access toilets are fitted with a red alarm cord. Toilets are well lit with ceiling spot lights. The floor is non-slip laminate. All sinks are fitted with lever taps. Additional public toilets are available at the junction between North Main Street and High Vennel, beside the public telephone box, these have a shallow step in. These are open 24 hours.

Catering

The Festival Cafe, within the County Buildings (see programme) is located on the first floor and accessible by lift. The door to this facility is always wedged open during opening times and enables wheelchair access. The Cafe is level throughout, laid out with tables and chairs. During busy periods this area becomes tight for space, however in most instances space is available for wheelchair and pushchair access and in all circumstances staff will support those with wheelchairs or pushchairs to gain access to a vacant table. All tables are a standard height (approx 75cm). All chairs have backs and chairs with arms can be requested. The Cafe is lit by uplighters and has a wooden floor.

Menus state the availability of meals for different dietary requirements and staff are informed and willing to advise on the menu. The Cafe is a self-service area, however waitresses will bring meals and drinks to the table as required. Printed menus and blackboards are used, and staff are available to read out the menu. Table cloths are blue and white checks and white crockery is used.

The nearest and most accessible WC to the Festival Cafe is on the same level (first floor of the County Buildings), along the corridor beside the lift.
